HIPAA Notification – Notice of Clinician’s Policies & Practices to Protect the Privacy of Your Health Information

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW PSYCHOLOGICAL & MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED & DISCLOSED & HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

I. Uses and Disclosures for Treatment, Payment, and Health Care Operations

I may use or disclose your protected health information (PHI), for treatment, payment, and health care operations purposes with your written authorization. To help clarify these terms, here are some definitions:

- PHI refers to information in your health record that could identify you.
- Treatment is when I provide, coordinate, or manage your health care and other services related to your health care. An example of treatment would be when I consult with another health care provider, such as your family physician or another psychotherapist.
- Payment is when I obtain reimbursement for your health care. Examples of payment include when I disclose your PHI to your health insurer to obtain reimbursement for your health care or to determine eligibility or coverage.
- Health Care Operations are activities that relate to the performance and operation of my practice. Examples of health care operations include quality assessment and improvement activities, case management, care coordination, and business-related matters such as audits and administrative services.
- Use applies only to activities within my [office, clinic, practice group, etc.] such as sharing, employing, applying, utilizing, examining, and analyzing information that identifies you.
- Disclosure applies to activities outside of my [office, clinic, practice group, etc.], such as releasing, transferring, or providing access to information about you to other parties.
- Authorization is your written permission to disclose confidential mental health information. All authorizations to disclose information must be on a specific legally required form.

II. Other Uses and Disclosures Requiring Authorization

I may use or disclose PHI for purposes outside of treatment, payment, or health care operations when your appropriate authorization is obtained. Under circumstances when I am asked for information for purposes outside of treatment, payment, or health care operations, I will obtain an authorization from you before releasing this information.

I will also need to obtain an authorization before releasing your Psychotherapy Progress Notes, which are notes that I have made about our conversation during a private, group, joint, or family counseling session, which I have kept separate from the rest of your record. These notes are given a greater degree of protection than PHI.

You may revoke all such authorization (of PHI or Psychotherapy Progress Notes) at any time, provided each revocation is in writing. You may not revoke an authorization to the extent that:

(1) I have relied on that authorization; or (2) if the authorization was obtained as a condition of obtaining insurance coverage, law provides the insurer the right to contest the claim under the policy.

III. Uses and Disclosures without Authorization

I may use or disclose PHI without your consent or authorization under any of the following circumstances:

- Child Abuse – If I know or have reasonable cause to suspect that a child known to me in my professional capacity has been or is in immediate danger of being mentally abused, physically abuse, sexually abused, or neglected, I must immediately report such knowledge or suspicion to the appropriate authorities.
- Adult and Domestic Abuse – If I believe that an adult is in need of protective services because of abuse or neglect by another person, I must report this belief to the appropriate authorities.
- Health Oversight Activities – If the D.C. Board of Psychology is investigating me or my practice, I may be required to disclose PHI to the Board.
- Judicial and Administrative Proceedings – If you are involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information about the professional services I provided you and/or the records thereof, such information is privileged under D.C. law, and I will not release information without the written authorization of you or you legally appointed representative or a court order. The privilege does not apply when you are being evaluated for a third party or where the evaluation is court ordered. You will be informed in advance if this is the case.
- Serious threat to Health or Safety – If I believe disclosure of PHI is necessary to protect you or another individual from a substantial risk of imminent and serious physical injury, I may disclose the PHI to the appropriate authorities and/or individuals.
- Worker’s Compensation – If I am treating your for Worker’s Compensation purposes, I must provide periodic developmental reports, treatment records, and bills upon request to you, the D.C. Office of Hearings and Adjudication, your employer, or your insurer, or their representatives.

Consent for Treatment Agreement

Please read and initial beside each section indicating that you are aware and understand the policies of our office. If you have questions, please discuss with your clinician.

I. Evaluation and Diagnostic Procedures

- a. The initial evaluation and diagnostic process may take up to 3 – 4 sessions.
- b. The initial evaluation will consist of clinical interview and may also include interviews with significant others, psychological testing and/or referrals to other specialists.
- c. Treatment will consist of individual, group, couple, and/or family psychotherapy, as well as possible adjunctive psycho-educational or skill building services. Frequency is determined by the clinician’s recommendation, scheduling availability, and the nature of the problem. Session frequency is typically weekly, and this may increase or decrease over the course of treatment.
- d. Treatment may also consist of referral to a psychiatrist for psychopharmacological recommendations. CCCC does NOT have a psychiatrist on staff; a referral list is available. Collaboration with your primary care physician is desirable and other specialists will be referred to and collaborated with on an as needed basis.
- e. Because therapy is the process of dealing with feelings, thoughts, and behavior it may feel worse before it gets better. If I believe I am in crisis, I will contact my clinician or designee, or go to my nearest hospital emergency room for evaluation.

INITIALS

II. Confidentiality

- a. I understand that my insurance company or other payment source for my treatment require diagnostic and treatment planning information in order to pay for services rendered. In addition, I understand that it is generally desirable for my clinician to provide clinical information to other professionals I am involved with to coordinate care.
- b. The office will not release any information without my knowledge and consent, except in the following circumstances, as applicable:
 - 1. In the event of a subpoena, or if a judicial system mandates the release of records.
 - 2. When clinicians have information indicating that a child under age 18 or adult over age 65 is (or has been depending on jurisdictions) abused or neglected, the clinician is a mandated reporter and legally required to report to child/adult protective services.
 - 3. If I am a danger to myself or others, my clinician will do whatever is ethical to protect me or others. This may include hospital admission, notification of emergency contacts, relatives, and/or police. I also understand that my clinician has a duty to warn individuals identified who are at risk to be harmed.

INITIALS

III. Communication Outside of Session

- a. Texting and email communication are not confidential and are not meant to be therapeutic methods of communication, but can be useful for scheduling purposes.
- b. Please circle below to authorize the following methods of communication:

IV. Clinician Consultation and Supervision

- a. CCCC clinicians often consult with each other when they consider they may benefit from clinical support and feedback from colleagues at CCCC. Clinicians may also consult with each other when working with the same clients (e.g. couples, DBT referrals, family, etc.). CCCC clinicians maintain confidentiality so that only the information that will benefit the client(s) and that the client and clinician have agreed upon will be shared with a collaborating clinician.
- b. Some of our clinicians are under clinical supervision and will share client information with their supervisors. Clients will be informed of this when they first meet with the clinician.

INITIALS

V. Scheduling, Fees, Missed Appointments

- a. Payment is expected at the time services are rendered and paid before my sessions begin. This includes co-pays, deductibles, self-pay fees, etc.
- b. I am responsible and not my insurance company for co-payments, coinsurances, and deductibles. I am also responsible for services not covered or denied by my insurance company, such as, but not limited to: psycho-educational services, workshops, paperwork for school or work, letters, and legal matters. The clinician will inform me of the time and cost of the non-covered services and make arrangement with you for payment. All costs for services provided that are not covered by insurance are my responsibility, including payments expected from my insurance carrier which have been denied. Payments not made at the time of service are subject to a 1.5% fee increase every 30 days of non-payment.
- c. There is a charge of $75.00 for missed appointments or late cancellations, unless a 48-hour notification is given. Medicaid clients and Military personnel are not subject to this fee. Payment is expected at the next scheduled appointment.
- d. Appointments are scheduled through administrative staff in collaboration with clinicians. If I need an emergency appointment, I will contact the office or other instructions given to me by my clinician.
- e. Services beyond those covered by my insurance company are provided on a self-pay basis, workman's compensation, or other agreed upon payment source.

INITIALS

VI. Reasons for Termination

- a. The practice's policy around late cancellations and no shows is as follows: after 3 late cancellations or no shows, clients can lose their standing appointment on their clinician's schedule; 3 more after that and they can lose their ability to stay in the CCCC practice. Clinicians have discretion regarding how and in what way they manage this expectation.
- b. My clinician may terminate treatment at CCCC under the following circumstances:
 - 1. Failure to comply with the treatment plan/recommendations by the clinician.
 - 2. Failure to maintain my financial responsibilities.
 - 3. Six late cancellations or no shows for scheduled appointments.

INITIALS

VII. Couples, Family, Group Psychotherapy

- a. I will keep information revealed by others confidential.
- b. Group clinicians may have a separate consent form for their specific group.
- c. Medical records from couples therapy cannot be released without both parties' consent.
